Focus Groups

Have friends or family been a useful source of information about higher education or careers?

Do you feel as a service child there have been any barriers to your education until now or your future plans?

66

Maybe I might move, why would I bother making friends here and maybe a couple of months or maybe a year's time I'd have to move again and make new friends, and think what's the point when you're just going to keep moving

66

I think if anything it's kind of helped us out a little bit more with the whole career side of things. They did a workshop at school for service kids a while ago. I don't really think there's been any setbacks. I think if anything it's been more of a help.

Focus Groups

Do you feel as a service child there have been any barriers to your education until now or your future plans?

66

From personal experience, when I'd move to a new school, they'd sometimes be like, they'd be further along than my old school, so I'd miss a whole chunk of a topic.

66

In the army if you move away during an important time of learning, like years 10 and 11, and you're trying to do your GCSEs, if you have to move and go to another school they might not offer the same variety of subjects, so you might not be able to do the same GCSE subjects
