1

You work in a small supermarket, but disaster has struck! A delivery lorry has arrived at the delivery doors, but nobody can find the keys to open them. The driver has said that they can only wait 10 minutes before they have to move on to keep up with their delivery schedule. You must find the keys by following the clues and evidence as to where they might be before the driver leaves.

You are currently in the warehouse. There are 6 colleagues with you, one in each area of food storage. You need to choose which one to talk to: Alan, Sue, Tayla, Rich, Jay, or Vera. You should speak to the person who works with ingredients that make CHEFS PROUDER. Tayla can't work with gluten because of an allergy, Alan was wearing a thick coat this morning, Sue is a pastry expert, Vera is not allowed to work in cold conditions, Jay is in the refrigerated room, Rich is on one of the end sections and is working next to Vera.

What is the name of the person you should speak to, and what section are they working in?

Clue: CHEFS PROUDER might be an anagram!

2

Good news! You spoke to the staff and they think the manager normally has a spare key for every door, and has suggested you look in the shop to find them as they are not in the warehouse.

You need to find out who the manager is by looking at the noticeboard and staff timetable on page 5 and 6.

Who is the manager?

Yes, you found the manager!

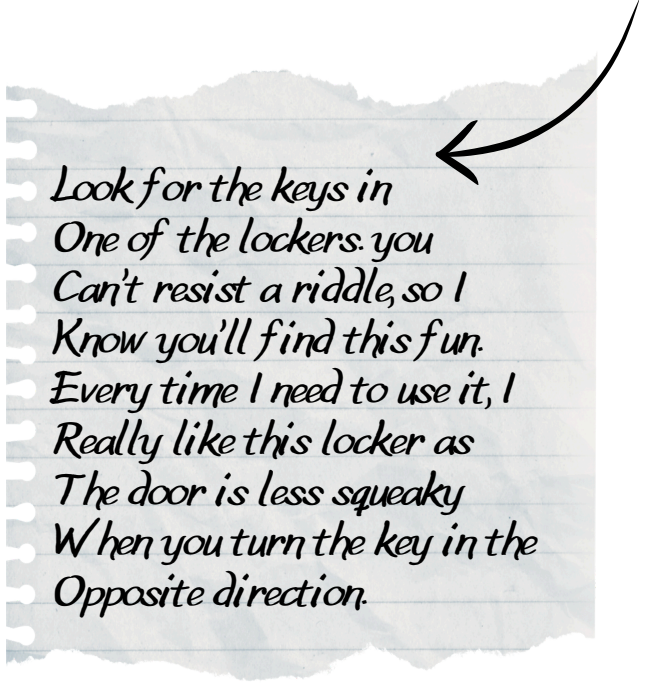

The manager let one of the office staff borrow the spare keys yesterday, but they can't remember who! The manager says that when the person asked to borrow the keys, they were sat at their desk and had just been on the phone. The desk was tidy and the person was using a PC, not a laptop. They said they talked about their mutual love of gardening before asking to borrow the keys.

Who borrowed the keys?

4

You look on the desk and find the following note:

*Look for the keys in
One of the lockers. you
Can't resist a riddle, so I
Know you'll find this fun.
Every time I need to use it, I
Really like this locker as
The door is less squeaky
When you turn the key in the Opposite direction.*

There are 6 lockers in the staff area, and all are opened with a different 4 digit code. The manager cannot remember the codes, but fortunately they wrote down some clues on the following page.

First you must figure out which locker Judith has left the keys in. The lockers are free for any staff member to book. Judith is superstitious and hates to use odd numbered lockers, or lockers whose numbers have more than three letters. She is always first in line to get to her chosen locker.

Which locker are the keys in, and what is the code?
